

Global Data Review – 40 Under 40

This month sees the launch of Global Data Review magazine – the only publication that analyses the law and regulation of the use and trade of data around the world.

The first edition includes a feature named “40 Under 40” which profiles individuals who represent the best and the brightest of the data law Bar around the world. We are delighted to announce that Gideon Shirazi has been chosen to be included. You can read the full feature and Gideon’s interview on the Global Data Review website.
