

James Watthey has been newly appointed to the Attorney General's London A Panel of Junior Counsel to the Crown

4 Pump Court is delighted to announce that James Watthey has been appointed to the Attorney General's London A Panel of Junior Counsel to the Crown. The panel consists of junior counsel who undertake civil work for all government departments. Members of the A Panel are instructed in the most complex and high profile government matters.

James's term on the panel will take effect from Wednesday 1 September 2021 and his appointment will last for a period of five years.