

UK-China Arbitration Summit 2019

Nick Vineall QC and Andrew Stevens will be speaking at the UK-China Arbitration Summit this year on 10 & 11 June, where leading practitioners will discuss the latest developments in international arbitration in an Anglo-Chinese context.

Nick Vineall will be a panellist for the session Choosing Chinese arbitral institutions for international disputes: An option to consider? on 10 June.

Andrew Stevens will sit on the panel for a session on both days:

Regulation, ethics and soft skills in arbitration: cultural differences and potential tactical (mis)use of conflicts and other rules (Monday 10 June).

UK-China legal co-operation on international disputes: cross-border expectations and experiences of UK and PRC lawyers. What can we do better? (Tuesday 11 June).

For more information, and to buy tickets, please click here.